INTERLUDE Am Em Am D

At the back of the crowd, he stood in line,
Said he'd be home soon and he'd be fine.
He was everyman.
The police stormed, their batons drawn
Ready for a fight, with anyone
They were every man, they were every man

Am Em
We're all new born babes

Am D
When we come into this life

Am Em
And for heaven's sake

Am D
Let's try to make things right.

She always tried to do things right
Never chased fame and the limelight
-she was everyman
She did her best for the family
Raised them with a sense of dignity
She was everyman
She was everyman

Off to the wars and home for tea
They boxed him up in Gallipoli
He was every man
Nineteen eighty four, police at the door
You just can't beat Thatcher's rule of law
We were every man, we were every man
